

Here in 2035 all is well. On Lady Elliot Island on the Great Barrier Reef all flights are eco-friendly. The reef is teeming with life - all manner of sharks, rays and so much more. 200,000 seabirds nest all over the island except in the accommodation. You put in nose plugs to blank out the smells.

Here in 2035, it is very good and there are hardly any problems with food gardens and unlimited water, small roads, hardly any personal cars and no-one has to go to work. Also, all houses are cosy and have nice big garden space and solar panels.

Writing and artwork by 5th Worcester Sea Scouts, April 2024.

Art to Imagine A Better Future
in the climate and nature crisis

A project by Malvern Climate
Community Group

art2imagine.org

